You have Jesus there is no need for any living water my African people. Because of your pursued for miracles you are so blind to believe in a water that these business men are selling to you as power. Only believe in Christ Jesus and not living water because he made all things.

It wasn't well planned. He wore the garment and hat before touching the living water. Besides, such shrines are not place nearby the village nor town. They are put in a special room in the house.What took him and his entire family to church? Good drammers.

It's funny watching this. Something has to be wrong somewhere. The shrine in question if observed carefully, there are question marks written all over it. The man mentioned he inherited the shrine from his late mother therefore this shrine should have some aging to it and should look older than it's. Look carefully around, everything seems pretty new. Somebody must deliberately set this place up for the show.

In short your argument is a shrine cannot be destroyed by Christians because satan who is behind it is too powerful than our Jesus Christ?????????
